Social Life in Gloucester.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

GLoucester C. H., VA., November 14.—The Gloucester Literary Society met at the rectory on Friday. The Rev. W. E. Watt read a most choice and interesting paper on "The Lay of the Last Minstrel" after which officers for the year were elected: L. C. Catlett, vice-president; Mr. Bristow, secretary. An interesting feature of the Literary Society are papers written by the members and others on the old places in Gloucester. Miss Lella Duval will prepare one on "High Gate," her home on the Plank-tank River.

Miss Margaret Tabb entertained the Card Club Thursday night most delightfully.

Miss Molly Jones, who spent the summer in Fauquier, has returned to Gloucester.

Mrs. Gerard Hopkins is in Maryland.

Mrs. C. E. Cary left on Wednesday, en route for Orange Courthouse, where she goes to attend the marriage of her niece, Miss Sally Williams, and Mr. Lewis Marshall Byrd.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dixon, who are spending the winter in New York, have opened Elmhurst, their Gloucester home, for part of the gunning season.

Miss Lou Seawell is in Washington, guest of her sister, the authoress, Miss Molly Elliot Seawell.

CHATHAM.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHATHAM, VA., November 14.—Miss Alice Fitzgerald and Mr. Harry Lee Thompson were married Thursday at the home of the bride, near Shuckoke. The groom is an attaché of the J. P. Bell Company, of Lynchburg, for which place they left on the afternoon train Thursday.

Miss Mattie L. Pigg and Mr. Brantley Carter, of Dry Creek, who accompanied Mr. L. F. Barr and his bride-to-be to Washington, were married in that city Wednesday night. The marriage was quite a surprise to the many friends of the young couple, who are well known here. The bride is the pretty sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. J. Hutch Pigg, a prominent county citizen. The groom is a young man of good standing, and is a traveling salesman for a wholesale grocery firm of Lynchburg. The bride's father accompanied the couple.

The Week in Staunton.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

STAUNTON, VA., November 14.—The daughters of the American Revolution held their regular business meeting Tuesday evening in the parlors of the Young Men's Christian Association. Interesting reports of the Danville conference were given by Mrs. Charles Curry and Mrs. McCullough, regent and delegate from Beverly Manor Chapter.

Although a very few were in attendance, a large amount of business of more or less importance was transacted.

Mr. Charles Curry, a prominent lawyer of this bar, who was operated on at the hospital here last week for appendicitis, is getting along well now and his physicians think he is out of danger.

Mr. T. H. Ellett of Richmond was in the city this week.

Mr. Joseph Davis of this city left this week for Fort Washington, where he will enlist in the U. S. army.

Dr. T. W. Murrell, of Richmond, was in the city several days ago.

FAUQUIER CLUB.

An Elegant Entertainment at the Marshall Home.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WARRENTON, VA., Nov. 14.—The Fauquier Club is about to move into its winter quarters. The club has again secured a brilliant and handsome home, an unusually attractive place of it. Much handsome furniture has been added to that which was already there, and many new ideas have been carried out. For instance, the basement of the club house is fitted up in the old Dutch style. Massive fireplace, hall and racks for coats, are very suggestive of good cheer and good fellowship. It will only be a short time now before these new quarters are occupied.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Marshall entertained over a hundred guests at their home last Wednesday afternoon. The reception was a brilliant one. Handsome gown, pretty floral decorations, large open fires brightly burning and the busy hum of many voices, all combined to make it such.

Mrs. Gordon Jones gave a delightful card party to a number of her friends on Tuesday evening. Six handed euchre was the game.

WILMINGTON.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 14.—The marriage of Miss Cammie Lord and Mr. Elmer Lambert Holloway was celebrated at six o'clock Wednesday evening in St. James Episcopal Church, Rev. Richard W. Hogue, rector of the parish, performing the ceremony. The wedding was attended by a large and fashionable assembly of guests, both parties to the nuptials being popular young society people here. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Amaret Lord, as the maid of honor, and groom by his brother, Mr. W. J. Holloway, of Salisbury, Md., as best man.

Little Athalia Rankin Bunting and Master Robert Duval Jones were the ribbon children. The ushers were Messrs. Charles M. Cooke, Jr., R. C. Sloan, Richmond, and Dave Wilson, of Richmond. The church decorations and costumes were elaborate and elegant. Mr. and Mrs. Holloway left on the Atlantic Coast Line train for an extended bridal tour next week.

The next society wedding of more than ordinary interest is the forthcoming marriage of Miss Katherine Meares Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Neelmeier Harris, and Mr. Henry Gould, which takes place on Tuesday, November 24, at 8 o'clock, in St. James Church, this city. Both parties are of old and aristocratic families and are very popular in social circles.

On of the most pleasant affairs of the season was an informal tea in the club house of the Cape Fear Golf Club last Saturday. Many society people were present. During the afternoon an approaching and putting contest for ladies was held. The prizes were won by Mrs. Walker Smallbones and Miss Alice Boatwright. To each was presented a handsome silver loving cup. Next Saturday a long driving contest for ladies will be held on the club track.

Prof. F. K. Cook, of the chair of medicine at Wake Forest College, visited his brother, Mr. Chas. M. Cook, Jr., several days this week.

Mr. Caswell P. Ellis, Jr., of New Orleans, a member of the large firm of C. P. Ellis & Co., here on a visit to Capt. G. L. DeRosier.

Major J. A. Lundeen, United States navy at Fort Caswell, is at Fort Monroe, Va., to attend a meeting of the Artillery Board.

Capt. R. V. Johnston, U. S. A., in charge of the U. S. Engineer's Co., this city, has moved his family to Wilmington.

Miss Meta Jewett, of Ocala, Fla., is here visiting her uncle, Mr. Stephen Jewett.

PETERSBURG.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PETERSBURG, VA., Nov. 14.—One of the most brilliant social functions of the season in Petersburg was the reception given by the Frances Bland Randolph Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in the parlors of the Petersburg Club Thursday evening, following the unveiling of the tablet in Old Blandford Church to the memory of the heroes of the Revolution, which is the first memorial to be unveiled in this historic building.

The parlors were tendered the Chapter by the president, Mr. E. P. Goodwyn. They were elaborately decorated with American colors and with palms by special invitation of the Chapter. Radcliffe's orchestra of Petersburg added to the pleasure of the occasion.

The guests of the evening were received by the officers of the Chapter in this city. Mrs. E. W. Finch, regent; Mrs. W. B. McIlwaine, first vice-regent; Mrs. Francis R. Lassiter, second vice-regent; Mrs. W. F. Drewry, secretary; Miss Mary Buntin, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. G. Temple, treasurer; Mrs. S. P. Mitchell, registrar; Mrs. A. K. Davis, historian. These officers were assisted by Mrs. W. H. Nelson, of Richmond; Miss Bernice Friend, of Petersburg; Mrs. W. M. Jones and Mrs. W. H. Camp were in charge of the refreshments. Mrs. Preston Roper, assisted by Misses Grizzle, Mullen, Mary C. Gilliam, Annie Willson, Alice Spicer and Rosa Stephenson, presided at the punch bowls. Souvenirs of the occasion were small American flags. Mrs. Fairbanks, wife of Senator Fairbanks, of Indiana, the President-General of the National Organization, who was expected to be present at the unveiling and at the reception, telegraphed Mrs. Finch at the last hour that illness in her family prevented her attending. Mrs. Thomas Barton Lyons, of Charlottesville, who is State Regent, was also expected on the occasion, but she, too, was detained by sickness.

Among the visitors present were Mrs. W. H. Nelson and Mrs. W. H. Scott, of Richmond; Mrs. Harry Parker, of Hampton; Misses Purcell, of Baltimore; Mrs. George W. Tennant, of Mexico.

FREDERICKSBURG.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

FREDERICKSBURG, VA., Nov. 14.—Numerous rehearsals have been held this week for the opera to be given at the Opera House on the night of Tuesday, November 24th, for the benefit of the Mt. Washington Hospital. The play is in two acts and abounds in bright, catchy music. Interesting and amusing situations, giving scope to the splendid talent of the participants, all of whom are home people. The title of the opera is "A New Year's Reception." The stage setting will be attractive, and the vent, which is looked forward to with so much pleasure by the people, is expected to be a complete success from every standpoint.

Card and flinch parties have been popular this week, and among them was the regular meeting of the Tuesday Evening Card Club, which was entertained by Mrs. W. D. Carter. At the conclusion of the game elegant refreshments were served. Mrs. John T. Goodrick won the first prize and Mrs. Charles C. Rowlett the second.

The concert by the Fredericksburg orchestra, which was announced to take place Friday night, has been postponed for a week, and the members of the orchestra and ladies' chorus are busily engaged preparing for the occasion.

Mr. S. W. Somerville and family, who have been in the country here for some time, have returned to their home here for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Randolph Howard have returned from a visit of several weeks to Mexico, California and other points.

Miss Lillie Lee, of Washington, was a visitor here this week, the guest of Miss Lillie Harkamp.

Mrs. James Carmichael, of Wilmington, N. C., has been in the city this week, the guest of her brother, Judge A. W. Wallace.

Mr. W. McD. Lee, of Irvington, was warmly greeted by his friends here this week, and has since returned home.

Mrs. P. V. Daniel and daughter have returned from a visit to friends in Loudoun county.

Mrs. W. D. Scott has returned from a visit to Oxford, Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shepherd Bradley, of Baltimore, were here this week visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bradley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lowery have returned from a visit to Washington.

Mr. John L. Pearce, of Greenville, Miss., was a visitor to the home of Mr. J. McCalla Boyd, of Washington, this week.

Mr. G. R. Swift, of Washington, visited friends here this week.

KING GEORGE.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

COMON, VA., Nov. 14.—Miss Lillie Taylor, of Mt. View, near here, has accepted a situation to teach in a family near Baltimore, and her departure for that point several days ago caused no little regret among her many friends.

The coming marriage of Mr. Joseph Granville Heflin and Miss Gertie Newbill, of this county, is looked forward to as one of the most interesting events of the season. The ceremony will take place next Tuesday, the 17th, at high noon, at Shiloh Baptist Church, of which the prospective bride's father is pastor.

Miss Augusta Arnold, who has been spending several weeks at the home of Mr. J. McCalla Boyd, of Washington, this week, returned to her home at "Sunnyside," near this place. She expresses herself as charmed with the capital city and its people.

Miss Mattie Baker has returned in Washington, D. C., after spending some time with her parents at Shiloh, and her brother at Dogue county.
